ABOUT

Arrigoni Woods started out with a vision to provide a unique experience in wide plank European flooring. The type of wood flooring that you would expect to discover in an old farmhouse while traveling through the European countryside. Flooring that tells of a rich heritage and tradition; that helps you to put down roots of your own.

At Arrigoni Woods, we draw inspiration from lush textures and the beauty of the surrounding environment. And we don't just stay at the surface. We create what you envision with hand-scraping, wire-brushing, square pegs, aging, and custom finishing, putting in all the knowledge and experience of our highly trained craftsmen.

We are a small company based in Vail, Colorado, and take intense pride in our craftsmanship and attention to detail. We've built our company in the same way as the product we craft - with diligence and care.

Arrigoni Woods is a full service company, offering complete flexibility and total customization every step of the way. If you love a genuine and authentic experience, and appreciate the beauty of natural materials, we can provide the perfect floor. Following historical tradition our woods are durable, timeless, beautiful and natural; the foundation for interiors of distinction and quality.
